HALLMARK 1969

In this time of moral and physical conflict when our social and spiritual values are being questioned, we as "leaders of tomorrow" must work for an improved present today.

ADMINISTRATION

Often seen around the school doing various tasks is Mrs. Jean Keating, wife of the Headmaster. Her contributions have been many this year.

Mr. Peter Keating, Headmaster, is charged with the responsibility of keeping the school running smoothly. Known for his willingness to talk to students, he has kept the all-important channels of communication throughout the school open. Working closely with Mr. Keating is the Administrative Staff, Emmet Larimer, Dean of Men; Karen Robertson, Dean of Women; Francis Winder, Chaplin; Michael Koetter, Admissions Director; and William Purdy, College Counselor.

HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY

Without a strong faculty, a school is not worth its name. After spending years in school themselves, being on the other side of the desk continues our faculty's education from a different angle.

Known for their excellence, many have advanced degrees, and several are working on their doctorates. The offers from other institutions around the country to several of our faculty members attests to their excellence.

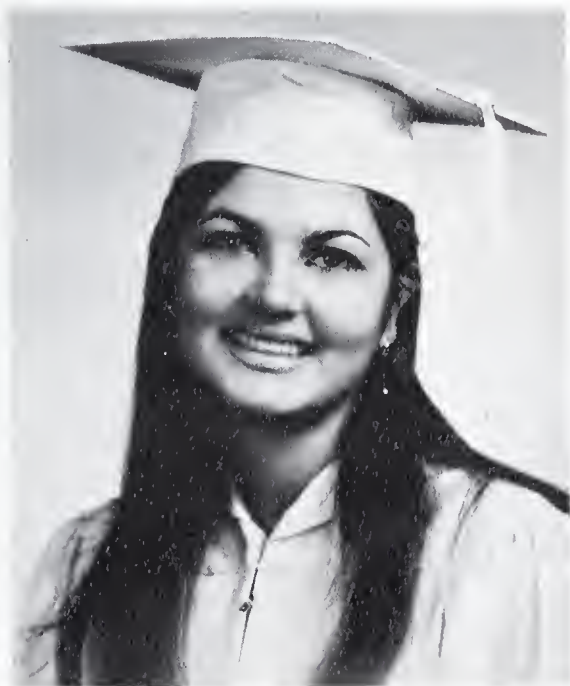

SENIORS

The strength of the school must come from the Senior Class. Known for its closeness, the Class of '69 has remained essentially the same for three years. This year, having been somewhat divided by the University Program, the seniors remained unified through various school activities.

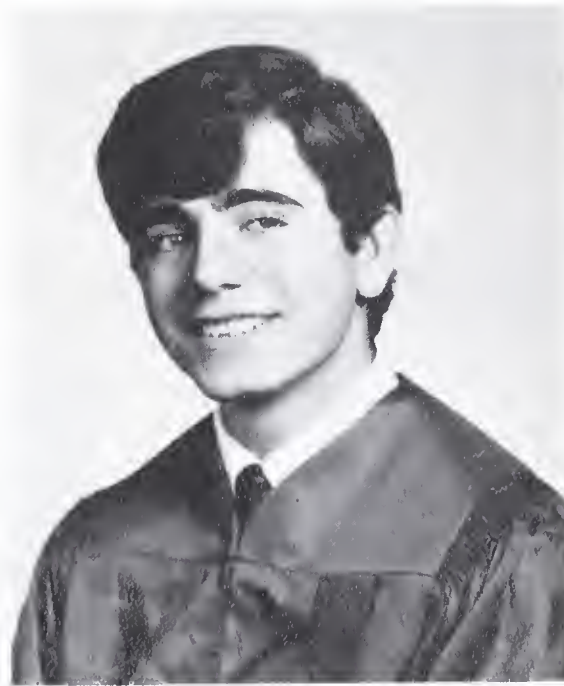

Due to various circumstances, Rowland Hall St. Mark's last year was not represented by an American Field Service Student. However, holding high places in our senior class this year are Rosario Uribe from Columbia, and Mustafa Unan from Turkey.

LOWER SCHOOL FACULTY

Trying to find the "golden mean" between recess and the learning of basic skills, the Lower School faculty must play at times the roles of babysitter and counselor. These dedicated individuals have taken upon themselves the responsibility of taking over where mothers leave off, and must take their job just as seriously. Directed by Mrs. Isaacson and Mrs. Woodman.

ORGANIZATIONS

The four Prefects, elected by their fellow students as direct representatives of the student body to the administration and as chairmen of the Student Council, find that differences of opinion between students and administration create a need for compromise.

Lynn Wehrli

STUDENT COUNCIL ACTIVITIES DIRECTORS

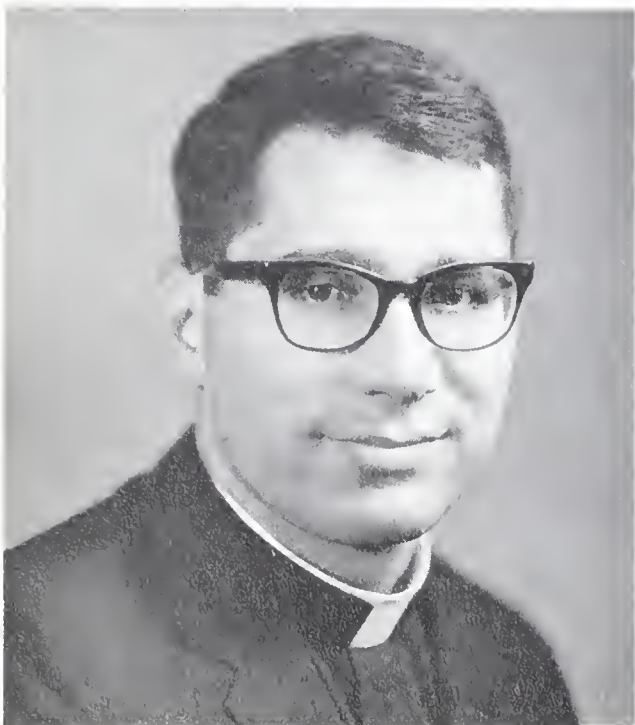

Filling in where the Prefects are found wanting, the Student Council represents the individual classes. At their weekly meetings, Council members make the needs of the students known so that these may be brought up at Senate or general faculty meetings. The student body is, of course, always invited to attend the Student Council meetings. The Activities Directors, John Roberson and Jane Ann Hartford, together with their self-appointed committees, must plan and execute original dances four times a year, as well as realize the need for adequate activities other than these to keep the school from becoming a mere "brain-machine" and to prepare the student in all ways for college.

CHAPEL

The school day starts out with the Chapel service, conducted by The Rev. Francis L. Winder, Chaplin to the School. One of the dominate features of the Chapel structure is the Chapel officers, headed by the Crucifers, Valli Gibbons and Christopher Clark. These Seniors, appointed by The Rt. Rev. Richard S. Watson, Bishop of Utah, demonstrate to the students the faith they have in their God and in their school.

ACOLYTES

Together with the Crucifers, the remainder of the Chapel officers is made up of the Junior and Senior Acolytes. Nominated by the student body in the Spring, they are appointed by the Bishop of Utah and begin to serve in the Chapel soon after the Spring Awards Dinner.

CHOIR

The Chapel service would not seem complete without one of the most ancient and beautiful forms of worship, that of music. The Chapel Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Michael Koetter and meeting after school on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, provides for the school the leadership needed on difficult hymns and chants. During Lent, it provided most of the strength for the Litany, a very ancient form of musical worship, until the school became accustomed to the chant. The remainder of the musical strength in the Chapel comes from Thom Jensen, Chapel organist. Practicing irregularly and under the direction of himself, he worked very hard all year to make his digital members work in unison.

ALTAR GUILD

Girls from the Freshman and Sophomore classes are eligible to join the Chapel Guild. These girls are responsible for keeping the Chapel clean. Their duties include various tasks such as dusting the pews and the floors, and arranging the books. Junior and Senior girls who are members of the Altar Guild are responsible for putting up the daily numbers, and changing the linen when appropriate. Under the direction of Aunt Henrie and Jody Burns, President, the care-taking of the Chapel runs smoothly.

AFS CLUB

The American Field Service is an organization that brings foreign students to the United States, and sends American students abroad. The A.F.S. Club of RHSM was formed to create interest in the program. The club hopes to help raise the money to send one of our students abroad. Honorary members this year are Rosario Uribe of Columbia, and Mustafa Unan of Turkey.

UN CLUB

The United Nations clubs from all Utah Schools join every year in April to form a Model United Nations. The country assigned to RHSM provided a great deal of excitement, as Taiwan is a member of the Security Council, General Assembly, and Economic and Social Council. Members of the delegation were able to plan and participate fully in the action of the two days.

LANGUAGE REPRESENTATIVES

The Spanish, French and Latin Clubs were all combined to form the Language Club. Each class elected representatives to work together in planning large-scale events. SERVICE CLUB

For the first time this year, Rowland Hall-St. Marks has joined with the YWCA in instituting a Big Sister-Little Sister program. Approximately 25 girls from the high school have "little sisters" from Jefferson school. The RHSM girls meet with their "little sisters" regularly and soon become friends. School activities as well as outside events are shared together.

BOARDING DEPARTMENT

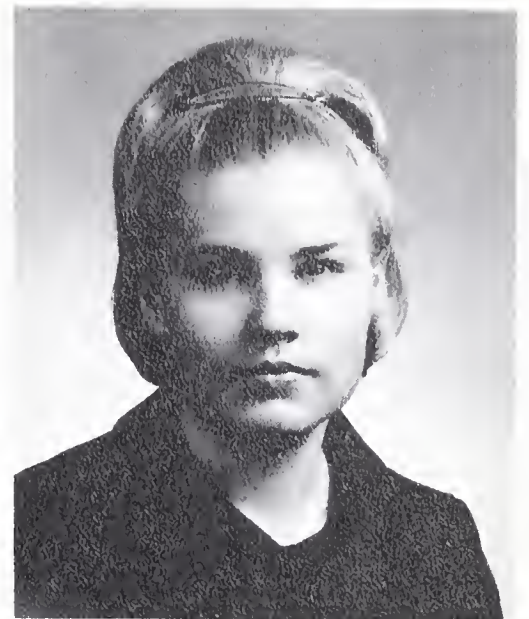

Aunt Henrie

One of the advantages of an independent school is its opportunity to have students from all around the country and the world. This need is filled by the Boarding Department which is supervised by Mrs. Henrietta Person, Housemother, Mrs. Greta Graham, and Miss Sylvia Somsen. This group of girls select their own House Council whose job it is to represent the group in the Student Council, as well as regulate their living conditions. House Council President, Pam McClary finds the job of representing a family is not an easy one.

A significant contribution to the school's journalistic efforts was the reappearance of The Lion. Working with maximum enthusiasm and minimum typing skill, the Sophomores issued The Lion upon occasion. Their ambitious effort was rewarding to them and to those who read their work.

MEDALLIONS

A student expresses what he feels in many ways, not the least of which is in writing. At RHSM, one of the highlights of the end of the year is seeing ones fellow students' literary work in print as Medallions, the school literary magazine, is published. How rewarding it will be to look back on a friend's thoughts as well as his picture.

HALLMARK 1969

After a year of consistent effort and worry, the Hallmark was published in May. The 1969 Yearbook represents a joint effort of teachers and students in organizing the largest and most complicated publication of the year. Although the Hallmark is compiled by a small group of students, the full cooperation of all the members of the school is necessary in making the publication successful. I would like to thank the faculty and students for their efforts. In particular, I would like to express my appreciation to my staff editors: Thom Jensen, Gary Goates, and Mariette Full. Finally, I would like to thank my two faculty advisors, Mr. Larimer and Mr. Fox, for their patience and understanding.

HALLMARK STAFF

CONTENT

"Heinsius, the keeper of the Library at Leyden in Holland, was mewed up in it all the year long; and that to which thy thinking should have bred a loathing, caused in him a greater liking. I no sooner (saith he) come into the Library, but I bolt the door to me, excluding lust, ambition, avarice, and all such vices, whose nurse is idleness, the mother of ignorance, and melancholy herself, and in the very lap of eternity, amongst so many divine souls, I take my seat, with so lofty a spirit and sweet content, that I pity all our great ones, and rich men that know not this business."

—Robert Burton
The Anatomy of Melancholy.
